ABOUT THIS DIRECTORY

For your convenience, AIA Colorado's 2010-2011 Firm Profile & Membership Directory divides member firms by chapter (Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information), and then lists all professional affiliate companies and individual members in separate sections.

The Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information section is a roster of firms whose principal(s) and/or partners are full AIA members. The qualification for being included as a member firm in the 2010-2011 Firm Profile & Membership Directory is the principal of the firm, or one of the principal(s), is an AIA Colorado architect member (AIA). Firms included in the roster are not necessarily architecture firms. Licensed architects represented in this listing are designated by the AIA or FAIA designation after their names in the contact section. The Professional Affiliate Firms section highlights those members that are affiliated with the design and construction industry. Finally, the Individual Members section contains individual listings of all members, including architects, Associate AIAs, professional affiliates, student affiliates and intern members.

All information in AIA Colorado's 2010-2011 Firm Profile & Membership Directory has been provided by firm and professional affiliate members. The information was deemed accurate at the time of publication. However, if information is not accurate, members may contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, or send an e-mail with changes to info@aiacolorado.org. AIA Colorado may not be held responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions in the member listings.

AIA respects the privacy of its members. This directory includes firm and personal information supplied by members. Individual listings do not include e-mail addresses. Please note the contents of this publication may not be reproduced by any means, in whole or in part, without prior written consent of the publisher. For information about purchasing a single-use mailing list of AIA Colorado members, please contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, ext. 110. AIA Colorado does not sell or share e-mail address lists. Inclusion in this directory does not imply endorsement of any firm, service or product. The acceptance of advertising does not reflect endorsement of products or services by this publication or AIA Colorado.

WELCOME from AIA Colorado President and Executive Director

Mary Morissette, AIA
AIA Colorado
2010 President

Sonia Riggs, CAE
AIA Colorado
Executive Director

We are pleased to provide you with this year's edition of the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory as part of your AIA member benefits. This publication is a valuable resource to connect you with fellow AIA Colorado members, AIA committees, staff and leadership. This directory, together with our website at www.aiacolorado.org, provides members with current contacts to access the wealth of resources that AIA Colorado offers.

The AIA Colorado office is located in the heart of downtown Denver at 1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110. We believe it is important to maintain an urban presence on behalf of our members. Our staff serves the membership and the public with diligence and professionalism, providing member services, contract documents, ARE study materials and a general reference library and maintenance of the always-important job board. The staff also works with members to coordinate our communication strategy, government affairs agenda, annual scholarship program and state and local chapter events, including the design awards galas and continuing-education classes.

One of the indirect benefits of being an active member of AIA is fellowship. Getting to know other members, sharing ideas, collaborating in projects and building genuine friendships that grow from communication with your peers can be as valuable as the more obvious, direct benefits AIA offers. It is important to stay connected to your profession. We believe this directory supports our members in that endeavor. It can be an integral tool in your efforts to be an engaged member of AIA Colorado.

This publication would not be possible without the strong support of the advertisers and sponsors represented in the Buyers' Guide. Their investment in our organization is important to our future success.

Sincerely,

Mary Morissette, AIA,
AIA Colorado 2010 President

Sonia Riggs, CAE,
AIA Colorado Executive Director

The American Institute of Architects' Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

Members of AIA are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence. The following principles are guidelines for the conduct of members in fulfilling those obligations:

Canon I — General Obligations
Members should maintain and advance their knowledge of the art and science of architecture, respect the body of architectural accomplishments, and contribute to its growth, thoughtfully consider the social and environmental impact of their professional activities, and exercise learned and uncompromised professional judgment.

Canon II — Obligations to the Public
Members should embrace the spirit and letter of the law governing their professional affairs and should promote and serve the public interest in their personal and professional activities.

Canon III — Obligations to the Client
Members should serve their clients competently and in a professional manner, and should exercise unprejudiced and unbiased judgment when performing all professional services.

Canon IV — Obligations to the Profession
Members should uphold the integrity and dignity of the profession.

Canon V — Obligations to Colleagues
Members should respect the rights and acknowledge the professional aspirations and contributions of their colleagues.

Canon VI — Obligations to the Environment
Members should promote sustainable design and development principles in their professional activities.
For the complete Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct, visit www.aia.org/aiaucmp/groups/aia/documents/pdf/aiap074122.pdf

ARC pac

Architects of Colorado Political Action Committee

1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110; Denver, CO 80202; 303.446.2266

What is a Political Action Committee?

A political action committee (PAC) is a non-profit, political organization specifically created to promote legislative interests and raise funds for that purpose.

The Architects of Colorado PAC (ARCpac) focuses on the interests of Colorado registered architects, whether they are AIA members or not. AIA dues are not a part of ARCpac. Membership in the PAC is completely voluntary and separate from AIA Colorado.

Why do Colorado Architects need a PAC?

The architectural profession is significantly influenced by elected officials and by the acts they take. To have a more active role in the election process and raise funds for that purpose a PAC is necessary. ARCpac provides additional opportunities to create relationships with state legislators. Also, ARCpac can donate money to candidates who fight for issues of importance with architects. Furthermore, ARCpac members may help with political campaigns.

Who can be a part of ARCpac?

All Colorado licensed architects may be a part of this organization upon contributing to ARCpac. Any individual, firm, company or partnership with a vested interest in the architectural profession can contribute to ARCpac. Contributions to ARCpac are limited to $500 per person or firm for each election cycle. ARCpac is a way for a firm to give to a cause, as firms are not able to give money to candidates.

How is a PAC effective?

ARCpac is effective with legislators and other elected officials because it represents the collective political arm of 6,000 Colorado architects and supporters acting as one influential voice.

Who decides how ARCpac distributes its money?

The executive committee of ARCpac makes decisions about who receives ARCpac money. Contributions received by ARCpac cannot be declared to any specific candidate. ARCpac distributes all of its money during election years to political candidates running for state office, regardless of party affiliation. ARCpac donates money to candidates who support issues of importance to architects, regardless of party affiliation.

What political issues are important to architects?

Recent issues of importance include the architect licensing law, scope-of-practice protection, sustainable design, school bond issues, indemnification, eminent domain and land use

Five Ways Your Firm Can Contribute to ARCpac

1. Make a personal or corporate donation of up to $500 per election cycle.

2. Designate a firm member to solicit members of your firm to contribute to ARCpac.

3. Agree to host a fundraiser in your home for your state senator or representative.

4. Agree to attend a fundraiser organized by ARCpac.

5. Agree to work on your senators/representatives re-election campaign.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of AIA Colorado is to be the voice of the architectural profession and the primary resource for its members.

AIA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado.

AIA Colorado provides help in finding an architect, lobbies the Colorado legislature, publishes architectural employment information, offers continuing education programs and sells AIA Contract Documents and other publications. The organization hosts an annual conference and provides support to all the chapters within the state. It is a professional organization for the design profession and is classified as a not-for-profit.

HISTORY

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890, and the elected officers were Robert S. Roeschlaub, president; Harold W. Baerresen, vice president; Eugene R. Rice, secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, treasurer.

The same men were re-elected to office at the second annual meeting held Dec. 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects.

The charter was received April 4, 1892, and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It was not until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

AIA COLORADO 2010 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors is the governing body of AIA Colorado and develops all immediate and long-term positions and policies for the state. If there is a subject of concern for you or you have a proposal for the board, please call AIA Colorado by the 10th day of the month. A time will be scheduled for you to offer feedback. AIA Colorado board meetings are held at 2 p.m. on the third Friday of each month, typically at the AIA Colorado office. All members are welcome to attend. A current list of all boards of directors and committees can be found online at www.aiacolorado.org.

Membership

AIA is a three-tiered organization with five basic levels of membership. Full descriptions of all membership levels and benefits can be found online at www.aiacolorado.org.

Membership Categories

AIA (licensed architects)
A member currently licensed to practice architecture in the United States.

Emeritus
An AIA member who is fully retired.

Associate AIA
A member unlicensed to practice architecture in the United States but who meets one of these conditions:

- is participating in career responsibilities recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward licensure (intern),
- is under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity,
- is a faculty member in a university program in architecture, or
- is licensed in another country but not the United States.

Professional Affiliate (state and local levels only)
A member unlicensed to practice architecture. Individuals may become Professional Affiliate members if they have established professional reputations and are registered to practice their professions where such requirements exist or are employed outside architectural practice but involved in positions related to the field of architecture.

Student Affiliate (state and local levels only)
Any undergraduate or post-graduate student enrolled in architectural design or construction-related programs in Colorado.

AIA College of Fellows

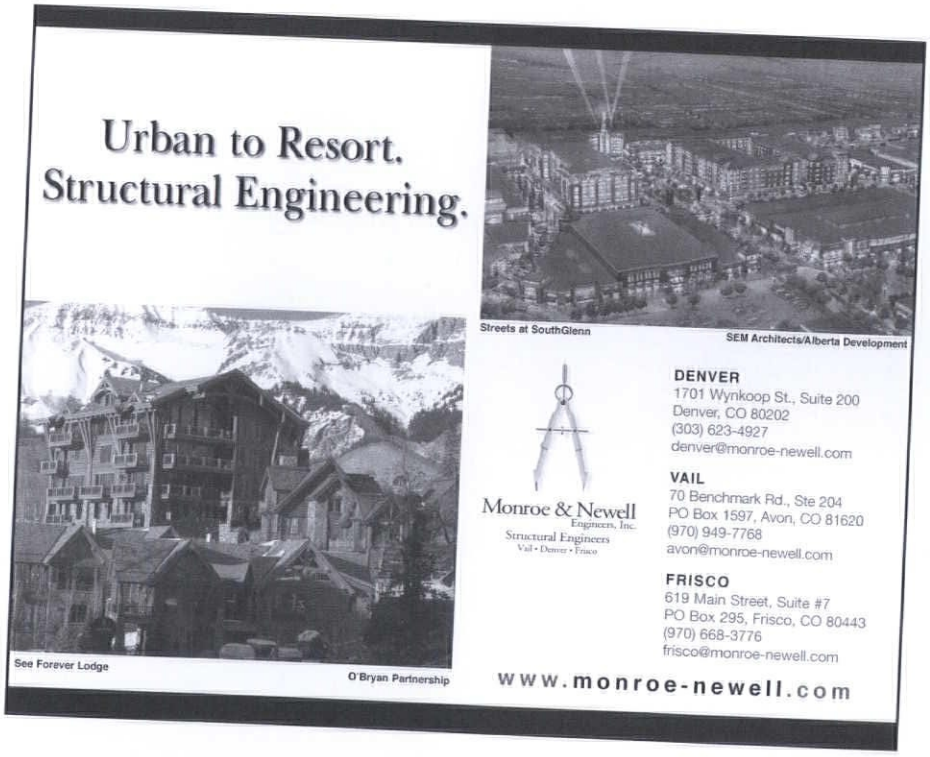

AIA bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, Fellowship is the highest honor AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training and practice; to the building industry through leadership of AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment; and to society through significant public service. Those advanced to Fellowship can use "FAIA" designation after their names in recognition of their contributions.

The following people came into the area from other chapters in the early years and were automatic Fellows when assigned to the AIA Colorado Chapter. (Area: Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico, April 4, 1892.)

1886 Frank J. Grodavent
1888 E. T. Carr
1889 Francis W. Cooper
1896 Franklin E. Kidder

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has awarded more than $800,000 in scholarships, grants and other prizes to more than 250 students, architects and teachers. The annual awards program exceeds $50,000 from income received through investments and donations.

During the past four decades, individual architects and firms have made substantial contributions to the foundation as memorials. Individuals and organizations allied with the construction industry also have made significant donations in the past. Many donors send a contribution to the fund, instead of flowers, to memorialize a lost loved one, friend or associate. The foundation continually seeks new funds in the way of endowments, donations and memorials from the design community and the AIA Colorado membership at large.

The foundation provides assistance to AIA Colorado and its members so that AIA Colorado can conduct professional education programs accessible to the membership and the design community. Requests for such grants should be submitted to The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, 3320 E. 2nd Ave., Denver, CO 80206.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, was established in 1934 by five men devoted to the practice of architecture. On Jan. 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and the four other men the creation of a special trust fund "to advance the interest of the profession of architecture in the state of Colorado."

The foundation was conceived a decade earlier by the founders of the Allied Architects Association: Robert K. Fuller, FAIA; William E. Fisher, FAIA; George H. Williamson, FAIA; William Bowman, AIA; and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their vision long had been "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession." (All quotes are from the original articles of incorporation.)

The first aim of the foundation was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal would be large enough to ensure a "good annual return therefrom." The founders hoped that the amount in the fund would serve as a "nucleus" that would increase in value and, now that it formally was established, also attract additional donations. By 1944, however, no new contributions had been made and of the five founding fathers of the fund, only the fund's chairman, Fuller, survived.

On Dec. 18, 1944, the foundation was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA (predecessor of the Colorado State Society of AIA and now AIA Colorado) as a chapter investment fund. Fuller was designated as its permanent trustee. By early 1961, the fund had achieved its first aim "... a good annual return." It then was deemed wise to incorporate as a separate, tax-free entity to be known as the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. On Feb. 16, 1961, the foundation was incorporated as a separate, tax-exempt, non-profit corporation under that name. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA, newsletter, The Addenda, was (and remains today) "to advance education in architecture by granting of scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in architecture and to teachers or architects interested in research projects directly related to and of value to the architectural profession."

At its November 1961 meeting at the old Boulder Country Club, the Colorado Chapter, AIA, awarded the $600 William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship to James E. Koentop, a fifth-year architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken only 27 years for the five founders' original dream (to be able to make such awards for the betterment of the profession) to come true.

Fuller died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA, asked his son, Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA, to assume the responsibility of the position of permanent member of the board of trustees. Upon the death of Kenneth in 1998, Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, became the third permanent member of the board.

In 1969 the AIA in Colorado was restructured into a state society with two chapters (now four) and the fund's name was legally changed to the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA. In 2001 the trustees reincorporated the fund with updated articles and bylaws and a new name that reflected the fund's evolution: The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado. Today the board of trustees of The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, consists of the following five members: the current president of AIA Colorado is the foundation president; the current president-elect of AIA Colorado is the vice president; Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, is the permanent secretary/treasurer; and the past president and executive director of AIA Colorado serve as trustees.

The Architectural Education Foundation

The following is a listing of the Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado Scholarships:

Anniversary Scholarship $1,500 award for third- or fourth-year study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

AIA Colorado, North Chapter Scholarship $1,000 award to an AIAS member in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

Gary G. Landin, AIA Scholarship $1,500 award for fourth-year study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

C. Gordon Sweet, AIA Scholarship $1,500 award to any student with proper qualifications in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA Scholarship $2,000 award for first-year study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

DeVon M. Carlson Scholarship $2,500 award for graduate study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

William & Priscilla Muchow, FAIA Scholarship $5,000 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Temple Hoyne Buell, FAIA Scholarship $2,500 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Robert K. Fuller, FAIA Scholarship $2,000 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

James H. Hunter, FAIA Scholarship $2,000 award for travel and study in the Americas.

Arthur & Florence Fisher Traveling Scholarships $2,700 and $2,300 awards for international travel and study.

Rodney S. Davis, AIA, Traveling Scholarship $4,000 award on odd-numbered years for travel and study.

Michael Kephart Scholarship $1,000 award for graduate study at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Hobart D. Wagener, FAIA, Traveling Scholarship $5,000 award for travel and study.

AIA Continuing Education System

The AIA/CES is a continuing education system developed by AIA to emphasize learning and record participation in professional learning activities. The program enables architects to keep current, master new knowledge and skills, plan for the future and responsibly meet the role society entrusts to a professional. The program also allows members to fulfill a requirement for AIA membership and meet any state mandatory continuing education requirement. In this role, the program has the potential to be a primary force in the improvement and revitalization of the profession.

Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE)

MCE is education required by a state to retain licensure. Approximately 40 states and 10 Canadian provinces have implemented an MCE license requirement, but these requirements vary from state to state, province to province. For a quick overview of individual state/province MCE requirements, please visit the MCE chart at http://www.aia.org/education/ces/mcerequirements/AIAS074603.

Each state has the legal right to establish its own guidelines and requirements. However, most state requirements are similar, whether they require architects to meet them annually or biannually. The average AIA member has four or more state licenses, which means he or she must meet the continuing education requirements for all states in which one intends to practice.

AIA/CES

Members can earn learning unit (LU) hours by attending programs offered by AIA/CES registered providers or through self-reporting independent activities and research.

Learning Unit Hours (LU hour)

The AIA records continuing education credit in learning unit hours (LU hours). A one-LU-hour activity is equal to one contact hour. An LU hour is not a continuing education unit (CEU). One-tenth of a CEU (0.1) is equal to one contact hour, which is equal to one LU hour. In other words, one CEU is equal to 10 contact hours or 10 LU hours.

Annual Requirements

All active AIA members must successfully complete 18 LU hours each year, with at least eight of the 18 LU hours relating to health, safety, and/or welfare (HSW). Of the eight HSW, at least four credits must be in sustainable design (SD) topics.

A member who fails to meet the annual requirement is given a nine-month grace period. Any credit earned in the following year applies toward the deficit. During the grace period, members are able to report retroactively any activities completed in the previous year.

A member who exceeds the annual requirement may carry over up to 18 LU hours (including eight hours of HSW/four of SD) into the next year. Carryover credit may be used for one year only; it is not cumulative. Only the number of credits needed to fulfill the annual requirement for the following year may be carried over. Extra credit may not be carried past the one-year limit.

Deadlines for Reporting AIA Activities

The annual deadline is September 30. This deadline applies to any activity completed within the previous calendar year. For example, an activity completed in December 2004 must be submitted to AIA/CES Records no later than September 30 2005. The deadline is not nine months from the date of completion; it is nine months from the end of the calendar year. Any activities submitted to AIA/CES Records after September 30 may be put on hold. This course of action applies to AIA members and AIA/CES registered providers.

AIA/CES Registered Provider Programs

AIA has developed a network of more than 2,500 educational providers made up of AIA chapters, affiliate organizations, firms, manufacturers, universities, non-profit organizations and government agencies. Providers can be searched for and identified through the CES Registered Provider database. These educational providers offer more than 25,000 programs each year. To find courses search the CES Courses database at http://www.aia.org/education/findcourses/index.htm.

Currently, courses offered by AIA/CES providers are filed with AIA/CES Records in Oklahoma. Within 14 days of a course's conclusion, AIA/CES providers verify and report the course attendees to AIA/CES Records. For non-AIA members, the AIA/CES provider offers a certificate of completion upon request. The complete activities are then posted on AIA member transcripts.

Beginning in late October of 2010, the AIA Continuing Education System registration, records and data management will move from the AIA/CES Records Department in Oklahoma to a more advanced in-house system. For more information, please visit the AIA National website (www.aia.org).

Transcript Records

Individual transcript records are updated daily. Anyone with an active AIA membership number may access a transcript at the "Education page" of www.aia.org by clicking on "Sign In" from the left side of the page, entering one's AIA member number on the resulting page and clicking "View Transcript." Members are able to print an unofficial copy of their CES transcripts.

Official CES transcripts are available upon written request to the AIA CES Records. A hard copy of the transcript can be faxed or mailed to a member. The first request is free. Each consecutive request costs $10 per copy.

Self-Reported Activities

If a program is not offered by an AIA/CES registered provider, members have the option of self-reporting the program or activity. The intent of this activity must be educational in nature and provide new knowledge in reference to their practice of architecture. Members must indicate whether the activity they are reporting is self-designed, structured or a professional community service self-reported educational activity:

Self-Designed Activities

This type of learning activity is organized by the member specifically to meet his or her individual needs. A self-designed activity frequently involves more than one type of medium or method, such as research, reading, interviewing subject experts, listening to audiotapes and/or viewing videos.

To determine what qualifies for self-reporting, the following questions can be asked

(1) Is this a planned learning activity?

(2) Is this activity intended to be educational or operational?

(3) Are you acquiring new knowledge or are you sharing your knowledge with others?

(4) How will you apply this new knowledge to your practice? NOTE This method is not acceptable for HSW credit. Some state licensing boards will not accept this type of reporting for MC requirements. (Recommended minimum of three hours)

Structured Self-Reported Program

This is a structured activity offered by an organized, third party and non-CES provider. Documentation of attendance/participation usually is required as a supplement when reporting this activity to meet state licensure requirements. For members who self-report a structured activity, AIA is not able to assist in acquiring any support documentation that may be required by a state licensing board MCE audit.

Professional Community Service

This type of activity may include architecture panels or community board meetings. Members may self-report two hours (LUs) of community service per calendar year.

To be eligible for credit, all self-reported activities must be planned educational activities that provide one with new knowledge that can be applied toward the practice of architecture. Members should complete the AIA/CES Self-Report Form and submit it to AIA/CES Records at the University of Oklahoma. Which type of learning activity being reported must be specified so that the data can be entered accurately into one's transcript. The title should be indicative of the program content. Members calculate LU hours for self-reported activities by reporting the number of hours spent in architecture-related learning (i.e., think in terms of billable hours applied to learning).

HSW

AIA requires members to earn 8 LUs in the area of HSW. The percentage of HSW content in any HSW-related activity must be a minimum of 75 percent to qualify a course or educational event for HSW credit. This accomplishes three goals:

(1) To ensure that HSW-related programs have a real relevance to members.

(2) To eliminate any question of whether the content of a program was actually HSW-related.

(3) To protect AIA members with state mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Can I self-report HSW hours?

A: Yes, but with restrictions. One may self-report any structured activity that is HSW related and receive HSW credit for it. In other words, the activity must be developed and presented to the member by a third-party organization. One cannot receive HSW credit for any self-designed activity. For example, even though code research is HSW in nature, if it is a self-designed activity, AIA does not allow HSW credit for it. This policy was adopted to ensure quality control guidelines are enforced and to comply with state licensing board requirements.

Q: Am I supposed to add my LU hours and HSW hours together to meet the requirements?

A: No. The HSW column (or SD column) on a member's transcript simply shows how many of total LU hours are HSW related (or SD related.) The annual requirement is 18 LU hours of which eight must be HSW related. Of the eight HSW, at least four must be in sustainable design educational activities. Thus, if one earns eight hours of credit from an HSW-related activity, he or she needs only 10 more hours (of either HSW-related or non-HSW-related activity) to meet the requirement. Eight hours are the minimum requirement for HSW credit; however that number may be exceeded. Similarly four hours are the minimum requirement for SD credit, but the number may be exceeded.

Q: What is the relation between HSW and state MCE?

A: Both AIA and state licensing boards base their programs on the contact hour. A majority of states require eight contact hours of HSW for MCE. The AIA/CES program requires eight contact hours of HSW from a structured provider. Some states allow some forms of self-reporting. Because of quality assurance issues posed by the states, AIA does not accept self-designed activities for HSW credit.

CAUTION: For members who self-report structured activities for HSW credit, it is very important to clearly report all HSW programs and activities separately, ensuring that they are clearly identified. Failure to do so could result in the loss of one's license because of noncompliance with state MCE requirements.

Sustainable Design (SD) requirement

As of Jan. 1, 2009, of the total 18 CES LUs required in a given calendar year, four LUs are required to focus on sustainable design (SD) and meet the established guidelines for SD MCE. The SD CE requirement does not replace the original requirement for 18 total hours, eight of which must be in HSW subjects, as HSW is a subset of LUs, and SD is a subset of HSW. It designates that four of the total hours be in SD topics.

Sustainability has been a focus of architectural practice for more than 30 years, and AIA has provided resources and tools to assist members in better serving their clients and communities through environmentally responsible projects. The AIA Board of Directors recognized the need to again help prepare their colleagues and help fellow practitioners respond to the latest challenge and opportunity facing the profession. The issue of climate change and the impact of buildings on carbon emissions created a new expectation among clients and the public to look to the expertise of architects for solutions that can help them leave a greener footprint. AIA is responding to this growing demand for its members to assume greater leadership in addressing the challenges facing the planet.

As shown in the AIA's position statements on sustainability and sustainable design, architects must take responsibility for their role in creating the built environment. Sustainable design has evolved from a niche service offering to a profession-wide imperative. Social, political and economic factors all are driving the market toward mainstreaming sustainability, and AIA architects who educate themselves in sustainable design will have an advantage, and again, have the privilege of providing ever greater service to clients and community.

AIA Transcript Changes

Beginning in 2009, AIA member transcripts now include the SD LUs earned, along with HSW and non-HSW LUs earned.

Continuing Education Requirements in the State of Colorado

Senate Bill (SB) 08-029, regarding continuing education and continuing competency for architects renewing their licenses in the State of Colorado, was passed into law in Spring 2008 and went into effect on Jan. 1, 2009.

All licensed architects in Colorado are required to earn 16.0 HSW professional development units (PDUs) during every two-year license renewal period. The current renewal period ends July 31, 2011. An architect who exceeds the annual requirement may carry over up to 4.0 HSW PDUs into the next renewal period.

For more information about this new state licensing law, visit the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies' (DORA) website at www.dora.state.co.us/aes.

Following a learning activity (i.e., anything that counts for credit), architects must either complete the DORA CE structured report form or take a quiz or test. Architects must keep DORA forms on file for auditing purposes. Forms can be obtained from the DORA website and are provided at all AIA programs. (Note: AIA continuing education transcripts will not be accepted by the State of Colorado as documentation for completing the continuing education requirement.)

In order to assist its members in meeting this new state requirement, AIA Colorado offer numerous continuing education programs across the state and throughout the year.

Allred & Associates has provided architectural, planning and interior design services to a variety of clients in the Rocky Mountain region since 1995. Our design experience includes site analysis and master planning, mixed-use office and retail buildings, event centers, golf clubhouses, flex office-warehouse buildings, fire stations, multi-family residential, as well as high-tech office and medical interiors. We provide our clients with a full range of design services, from the initial planning entitlement process through building permitting, construction observation and owner occupancy. We have established an excellent working relationship with several local planning and building departments, having piloted many buildings through these sometimes-complex processes. Your design objects are our priority and focus of service. All our clients are repeat clients.

Founded in 1978, SEM Architects has one of the largest portfolios in the commercial, retail and industrial sectors in the Rocky Mountain West region. In its first decade, SEM advanced from serving local clients to playing roles in regional and national projects. By the mid-1990s, as the firm went national, its services grew to encompass comprehensive architectural, master planning, entitlements, and interior design services for our clients in retail, industrial, office and build-to-suit markets. Recent years have seen an expansion of our portfolio to include local neighborhood retail and restaurants, regional mixed-use town centers, office parks and corporate headquarters, as well as roll-out programs for national retailers.

My firm employs a traditional, hands on design process which is focused on enabling my clients to fulfill their needs and realize their dreams. While the process is typically straightforward and incremental, the results inevitably are unique and beautiful. My clients say that I have the eye and the artistic ability to make much more than just an efficient technical solution and together we make extraordinary architecture. Hand drawing is the fundamental tool used to create the design, but we now also offer 3d modeling in SketchUp to enable clients to clearly see how the design evolves. See our extensive portfolio at www.jmarknelson.com.

Whether commercial or residential, your project is more than just a material investment. It is a personal venture revealing your perspective of community, family and individuality. Whether assembling an original property or a renovation, design is deeply personal and, for many, a once-in-a-lifetime venture. Here at Janitell-Childs, your creative dream becomes reality with a core of multi-talented designers, architects, artisans and contractors. Our collaborative process with you is both exciting and rewarding. More than the physical structure, we focus on the lifestyle that you envision. Good design is about how people respond to their environment over time - it has both functionaland inspirational value. Our special materials, tactile & visual elements factor intimately into your everyday life. Our focus is meeting your functionality and budget requirements while integrating beauty, form, scale, and environmentally friendly solutions.

LKSM Design, P.C. provides creative architectural design for residential and commercial projects. My passion is learning about a client and helping them to transform their emotional, financial and physical needs into built architecture through the process of discovery and exploration. I value the team effort of Client/Architect/Contractor, realizing that the TEAM must work with a singular goal for the client to be happy at the end of a project. This GOAL is the realization of your dreams.
